AEROS FLIGHT TRAINING SCHOOL ACQUIRES 2ND ALSIM AL42 SIMULATOR

News / Maintenance / Trainings

ALSIM is very pleased to announce the sale of a second AL42 FNPT II simulator to Aeros Flight Training for its Gloucester Academy. Aeros ordered their first AL42 last year for their Coventry Headquarters and following a successful trial they have decided to proceed with this second order. The new device will be delivered this winter.

Aeros Managing Director Nicholas Dunn says: "We started using Alsim AL42 last year and are very happy with this device: it is very accurate and replicates the DA42 exactly which makes the transition to the aircraft seamless and allows us to deliver maximum simulator help students train as a maximum in the simulator before flying the aircraft for real. This convinced us to buy a second one, which will be located in our Gloucester Academy."

He also adds: "We have been working very closely for the last 15 months with ALSIM after-sales service, they answered our requests quickly and efficiently. That is another reason why we renewed our confidence in ALSIM and when we thought about another Diamond DA42 simulator, there were no question about where to buy it".
